

Side #1 -- Carson, Camilla, Clarence, Amber

CLARENCEI'll say a few words.

CAMILLAYou know, maybe not everyone has to speak tonight?

CLARENCE Nonsense. I'm happy to. I'd like to say that I love my old man. It's possible I might have inherited some of his superstitious behavior, but honestly, it hasn't led me wrong yet. (Others scoff.) And the real reason I came here is because the date for this party lined up with one of my lucky numbers. And then I found out that the time for the party matches the number for a racehorse named Bad Dream. And now Bad Dream begins with BD. BD? Birthday! It's definitely a sign. And my gift for you, Dad, is that I invested in this solid bet. And you can reap all the benefits when we find out where he placed tonight. You're welcome.

CARSONI suppose we're last. Amber and I would just like to wish you a very happy birthday.

AMBERI'm going to blow you a birthday kiss.

CARSONAnd hopefully, the best gift of all is seeing how well your business is doing under my leadership.

AMBER

And I think--

CARSONAnd that should be the end of that. Let's drink this toast.